

traditional instrument performed their songs.

Then, a man sang silly-willy songs. I laughed.

Soon, the feast started. Some plain dumpling came.

But what's the plain dumpling for? Soon, paste came.

Paste? I looked at the plain dumpling. Oh! It's a DIY dumpling! I'm the first to do it. I did it badly.

I need more practise. Soon, the chef cooked our dumplings and we ate them happily.

After the feast, we played "What time is it Mr. Wolf?"

I knew you knew how to play. Justin did it wrongly. He said the time and we walked towards him then he shouted "lunch!" Justin should say "lunch" first. That made Christie and Justin quarrel.

In the car, we played highest numbers. We all said

"1 2 3... 10... 20 30 40... 100 200 300... 1000 10000 100000 1000000"

We went there, we found that it was only for teenagers and adults. We wanted to stop the car, but it's too late, the driver went away. So we circled around for half an hour.

Soon, we felt boring, so we went in the car and back to our hotel and had dinner.

But before the way back, we met Mr. Zheng's family. He invited us but we say "no!".

We went to that Chinese restaurant again. Then we ordered that ice-cream we ate the first day we arrived in Beijing.

Then, we played "cyberlink you-cam" in the computer. We took very silly-silly pictures. We all <sup>laughed</sup>!

Then, we had a visit in James and Christies room. We played hide and seek.

I hid in the most secret place. I hid behind the pillow. Even Justin can't find me! Soon, we went back to sleep, in room 1122!

The next day, I woke up. Ba Ba told me that we're going to the Capital Museum with everyone!

First, a lady led us to see the story of China. It was fun but a little boring.

Next, we went to explore the museum ourselves.

Then, we had lunch. When we went there, we grabbed some candies on the way and we all ate it. Then we bounced, bounced, bounced, bounced, bounced all the way to the room. Wow! It was big!

Later, we all went out to the fireplace for cooking Peking duck! (We get our plates too!) As I watched it, I felt more and more interesting! As we went back on the way, we grabbed some chewing gum.

We got the Peking duck on the plate. Then (it's like fougere twisters) a fish on the plate on the tray, on the table on some wheels being pushed by a chef came.
He taught us how to make fish. I found it interesting too! After the feast, we did a little naughty thing. I told Justin to sit on Chenkiv's pram and I shaked it violently.

Then we all tried, it was fun! Soon a bomb came, Jason quickly ran away. Then one big big big BOOM! I told Jason to come back.
He did. Then I tasted it. Slurp, Slurp, slurp. Wow! Chocolate sizzle candy. It was delicious. Then we left the restaurant and we went skiing indoors.

We're there, we hired some equipments and went inside.

BOOM! = Bang

At first, I went up and skied down. Christie was the next. She skied as fast as the speed of light. She skied to the bottom 5 seconds faster than me.

Suddenly, elevator no. 2 was broken, so we went to elevator no. 1.

As soon<sup>as</sup> I stepped on the magic carpet, it went<sup>up</sup> bumpily.

Later I skied like the speed of sound. As the speed of light is faster than the speed of sound, that means I still cannot catch her. Then I skied the speed of meters rock. I still cannot catch her. But - finally, Oh finally, I caught her:

After three hours, my Ba Ba told me to go to the adult skilling place. As I went up, I fell over. It took<sup>me</sup> 2 min. to climb back up. As I slid down, I felt a bit unhappy. Then we played the ice - side. Me first! I slid down but "crunch" I iced my leg. It was very painful. Then I slipped over again. This time ... .. It took me

7 min. to climb back up! I was angry! Soon we left the ski place and we went back to hotel. Then we went out again to have dinner.

As I remembered the mall was almost closed, so we went into the mall and ate ice-cream<sup>first</sup>. Well, the problem was, James wasn't coming with us. The ice-cream was yummy. Soon, the mall was closed. We went outside and found a yummy restaurant and ate there.

Firstly, I drank sour plum juice. But I had no appetite completely. Then, MaMa ordered some drink like soyay<sup>milk</sup>. She said it tasted horrible! Yikes! It did. Soon, the day was over, we went to sleep.

The next day, we woke up, packed our luggage, had a breakfast buffet and said goodbye to everyone and took a train back to Hong Kong.

Our train cabin was 7, room no. 5. It has four beds. The place was a lot smaller.

Then, we played computer games and had our lunch. Our lunch was cup noodles. Then, we watched the views.

At evening, I woke up from the afternoon nap. No one was there. So, I played computer for a while.

Then, they came back, saw me playing computer. It was lucky they didn't punish me. So, I ate cup noodles for dinner.

Soon, it was night. Chun Yik went to sleep and we saw photos while listening to a famous singer, Joey Yung.

Soon, I was tired, I went to sleep.

The next day, we woke up, I still have a tummy-ache. So I ate cup noodles. Then I watched the view.

At noon, I ate cup noodles again. At 2:00 pm, we were in Hong Kong, Lo Wu.

Then at 2:10, we were in Tai Wai.

At 2:20, we were in Mong Kong East.

At 2:25, finally, we were in Hung Hom. We packed all our things and left the station.

Now, I'm writing a journal, and you were reading it!

The end!

Wait a min!

Now, it's time to say lucky things.

James, who came 1 day earlier than us, caught by Typhoon SIGNAL-NO. NINE! But me and my family didn't run into the Typhoon. So we thanked God when we came home on the day after the Typhoon.

The end!

Wait a min! (mirrored) text

↑
look in a mirror